Parent Feedback & Analysis

After getting the feedback from the parents it was satisfying that the parents feel much engaged with the curriculum of the discipline. The parent-teacher meet was beneficial to the overall development of the Department. The faculty was likewise motivated at the comments from parents. After attending to the parents input, it was discovered that they are quite happy with the programme, the Department's vision and the course objectives. The parents equally appreciated curricular and extra-curricular activities such as the Department's academic events. They are satisfied with the departments resources and procedure (Assignment writing and presentation, and student interaction sessions) for their wards holistic learning.

Students and Parents Feedback Analysis (2023-24)

The Department of Management Studies conducted its annual comprehensive feedback survey for the academic year 2023-24, gathering valuable insights from students studying in BBA and MBA programmes. The feedback mechanism focused on various aspects of academic delivery, infrastructure, faculty performance and overall program effectiveness, achieving a remarkable response rate of 92%.

The Master of Business Administration (MBA) program demonstrated exceptional performance with an overall satisfaction rate of 88%. Students particularly highlighted the program's innovative curriculum design, which effectively integrates global business perspectives and practical industry applications. The Major and Minor specialization options received high appreciation (4.6/5), while the incorporation of business simulations and live projects garnered significant praise (90% satisfaction). Parents of MBA students expressed strong satisfaction (87%) with their wards' professional development and the program's emphasis on entrepreneurial skills.

In parallel, the Bachelors of Business Administration (BBA) program achieved an impressive 86% overall satisfaction rate. The specialized tracks in Finance, Marketing, Human Resource and Supply Chain Management were particularly well-received (4.4/5). Students appreciated the case study-based learning approach (91% satisfaction) and the robust industry mentorship program (Summer Internship) (88% satisfaction). The placement-oriented curriculum structure and regular industry interface sessions received strong endorsement from both students and parents.

Faculty performance emerged as a significant strength across both programs, with teaching effectiveness rated at 4.7/5. The faculty's ability to integrate real-world business scenarios, provide research guidance, and offer personalized mentoring support received particular appreciation. The student-faculty ratio of 1:15 ensures individual attention and enhanced learning outcomes.

Infrastructure and learning resources demonstrated strong utilization patterns. However, students suggested enhancements in research database access and advanced analytics tools, which the department has noted for immediate action.

Career development initiatives showed program-specific strengths, with MBA focusing on international placement opportunities (82% satisfaction) and entrepreneurship support (88% satisfaction), while BBA emphasized corporate placements (86% satisfaction) and industry internships (89% satisfaction). The University Placement Committee has already initiated measures to enhance the diversity of recruiting companies and strengthen global placement opportunities.

Research and innovation activities received positive feedback, with research methodology training (86% satisfaction) and industry project implementation (88% satisfaction) being particularly noteworthy. Both programs demonstrated strong research orientation, though there is scope for enhancing publication support and research infrastructure.

Based on stakeholder feedback, the department has identified key areas for enhancement, including international academic collaborations, advanced analytics training, and global exposure programs. A structured implementation plan has been developed, with immediate actions focusing on infrastructure upgrades and placement training enhancement, while medium-term goals address international collaborations and faculty development programs.

The department's commitment to continuous improvement is reflected in its comprehensive action plan, which includes immediate infrastructure upgrades, enhanced placement training modules, and the development of international academic partnerships. Long-term strategic initiatives focus on curriculum enhancement, research center development, and global academic collaborations.

This feedback analysis serves as a valuable tool for quality enhancement and program development. The department remains committed to maintaining its high standards while implementing suggested improvements to ensure continued excellence in management education.
